Rev prophet Jim

Rev Jim has been a prophet for over 35 years and has worked as a prophet in over 60 countries. His prophetic ministry is based in Ghana. In this document the prophetic voice for Singapore, which is in his heart, is written.

Jim writes: “When the prophetic ministry began to grow in my heart I was surprised and considerably troubled. But slowly over the years I have come to understand that I am just another way of the Lord indicating his will to his people. I have always exercised my ministry within the authority of the church and in this case it's the church in Ghana where I have spent over 30 years.

Along with a growing understanding of prophecy the Lord began to lead me into intercession. The Towers ministry, an intercessory experience is easily supported by the prophetic voice. Intercession and prophecy fit well together.

I have learnt that prophecy must stand or fall by prayer and the testing of God's people. I have also learned not to explain it but just to share it and leave it for prayer.

This vision for Singapore came after much prayer and study of the history of Singapore and the spiritual flows within it. I did not do this through personal choice but the Lord led me to this study and reflection.

This material might be better understood against the background of “The Singapore tower” which can be found on the website.

The angel of Singapore

I saw the angel of Singapore. I asked the Lord what this angel was called. He replied - "This angel is called "All the glory." I saw blinding light around this angel, and beauty beyond my imagination. Then prophecy began to flow.

I heard voices calling, first quietly and then stronger and stronger. I heard one word over and over again being called from the top of the tower, being shouted from the heart of Singapore and up through Asia. "Freedom."

God's people began to look up wondering where the sound was coming from. It penetrated into one heart after another and slowly the song of freedom began to rise from the nation. Throughout Asia hundreds and thousands of other voices joined until the whole of creation was echoing with the one word - "FREEDOM!"

Commission

Then quiet descended and I heard the voice of the Lord.

"This is my Commission. Set the people free by the power of my word and the testimony of my sacrifice in you."

The fires

I saw fires beginning to burn - fires of the spirit catching light in the hearts of men, women and children. Stronger and stronger they burned until they formed into one great wall of flame. The spirit ignited, sweeping through Asia. Darkness was driven away. The enemy retreated, broken and defeated. A voice cried "Let us worship the Lord" and millions fell before him to honour his name.

Quiet descended again. The spirit was brooding and the people were reflecting on what they had seen and felt and what they must do. The Lord spoke.

"Your strength is in me. I am your rock, so turn again and build on me. Come with repentance and faith, that I may strengthen you for the testing which lays ahead of you."

The storm

I saw a great storm rising up. Fury burned in the heart of the enemy and he turned this to Singapore. "These people I must destroy," he said, "or they will destroy me." In the darkness which is his heart I saw envy, spite and the Destroyer. Great clouds swept towards the land. "They will not triumph," the enemy screamed.

Do not be afraid

God's people drew close to him and he said -

"Do not be afraid. The enemy opposes that which he fears. You have my commission. You must have courage. Freedom comes at a very high price. Will you pay? To release the spirit of freedom you must bear the burden of Gethsemane. My spirit I have given to you. My vision I have given to you. Go and do as I have commanded and you will be victorious. At the same time the price must be paid."

The struggle

I heard the sound of battle. There was much struggle.

I saw the Seductress, tempting people into apostasy. I went to find her stronghold - a huge office block, which I tore down, bound her and raised, in the spirit a "Chapel of divine love."

I saw an animal's head. It was polluting the Eucharist, trying to destroy the power of the sacrifice which will destroy it. I demolished it and established in the spirit the "Place of the beautiful Lord."

I saw a serpent. It swept in from the sea looking to destroy whatever it could get its teeth into. I destroyed it and established in the spirit "The chapel of the star of the sea."

I saw a very hard face. There is no compassion, no hope and no yielding in the enemy. I smashed this idol and established in the spirit "The place of falling glory."

I saw a spirit of deceit of false things. I remembered the words of the high priest at the trial of Jesus - "What need do we of any further proof?"

I saw the thief. This demonic force loves the dark, moving stealthily without being seen. It has this ambition - to steal and kill and destroy.

Everywhere I saw innocent blood that had been spilled and not covered with the mercy of the Lord. It was crying out for justice from the ground. I raised up in the spirit "The Altar of the Lord" from which blood of Jesus could flow to cover the innocent blood with mercy.

I saw the hunter. This demonic force is looking to kill and is very active.

The Lord spoke.

“To break through the enemy requires intense prayer, a deep understanding and love of my cross, the conviction of my call and complete belief in my victory.”

Roots of deception

I found myself standing in a small private room with a few powerful people. They were discussing quietly and in secret. It was not a good feel in this room. I asked the Lord what I was seeing.

“All opposition does not come from without,” he said. “There are those who fear that the move of my spirit will expose their hearts and their selfish desire for fame and position - their desire to be great. They fear that in the fire of my spirit their promotion of themselves will be exposed. So they plan in secret to oppose my works.”

I saw the serpent moving around - moving out from this group to destroy good plans and good works. It undermined the reputations of those in God's people who wanted to move by the power of the spirit. I saw the spirit of confusion moving around to disturb those that wanted to see the spirit move. I saw the seductress moving around whispering - “Those who speak of moving forward only seek to damage the church or build for themselves. Do not trust them.”

I was sad at what I saw. The Lord said to me - “These deep roots of deception can only be broken by much prayer. Prayer can prepare the way forward but it must also break the roots that hold back.”

The torches of fire

I saw angels with flaming torches gathering around “All the glory.” The Lord came and gave them their Commission.

“Each of you will set a church on fire throughout Asia. Over the next years hundreds of churches will catch light with the fire of my spirit.”

All the glory asked, “Who will send them and where will they go?”

The Lord replied - “Antioch will send them.”

Seeking

I saw the Spirit searching throughout Singapore. I asked him - "What are you looking for?" He replied - "Hearts that will blaze with my heart so that my Lord's commission might be fulfilled." "What are these hearts?" I asked. "Those who will see my Lord's commission and sacrificed everything so that what he is calling for shall be done."

I felt an earthquake beneath my feet and I was afraid. "Do not be afraid," said the Spirit. "I must shake the foundations so that the way may be broken open for those who will burn to come forth and begin their work."

The call

I saw the Lord standing in the Singapore tower of intercession. I sensed the power of the spirit all around. Then he called out in a loud and powerful voice - the same voice which called Lazarus from the tomb.

I am calling individuals to my Commission. I'm calling directly to your heart. I called you to myself and this is the greater call. I call you to my Commission - set the people free by the power of my word and the testimony of my sacrifice in you. I call you to leave all that you have and be the agents by which my spirit can set Asia on fire in love and service to me. I'm calling directly into your heart.

I am calling churches to my Commission. Leave the things you are doing for the time being and devote yourselves to my spirit, that he may have churches through which he can burn through all of Asia. The trumpet is sounding for the churches of Singapore. Step out and burn for the glory of my name. You will lose nothing by leaving what you are doing because I will bless the works of your hands as you serve me. I'm calling you directly - set the people free by the power of my word and the testimony of my sacrifice in you.

The power of these words shook the land. I was afraid and fell down. The Lord lifted me up. "Do not be afraid," he said. "I am with you." "Lord," I replied, "Will anyone hear your words? For I am small and have little power and this nation is large and very powerful." "They will listen," he said to me. "You are speaking into a river that is already beginning to flow."

The harbour

I saw a big harbour with many small ships in it. Some had been moored for years and had no intention of moving. But as I looked I saw that some were beginning to turn their prow into the wind and set sail. They were not the first to leave, for in the past I saw others had already set sail. But the Lord was preparing a new fleet to set sail into the ocean of his will. I could hear anchor chains being pulled up, engines starting and the wind of the spirit blowing over the decks. For some a new beginning was calling. The sea would be risky and dangerous to sail on but the prize would be the glory of the Lord falling in a new way.

The lost ones

I saw a line of people - very long line. They were weary, sad and disheartened. I asked "Who are you? Where are you from and where are you going? Why are you so disheartened?" They gave me no answer but with heads bowed they walked wearily on to a destination I could not see. I felt their despair. I asked again "Who are you?" They replied - "We are the lost ones. Why has no one come to help us?"

I could not understand this vision. It seemed such a contrast to all the other things the Lord had been showing me. Then he explained -

The longer my people delay in obeying my Commission, the more people are lost in Asia. Time is short. People are being lost while my people hesitate. The enemy grows stronger. Is there an urgency in responding to my Commission? The door is open now but it will not stay open forever.

Breaking

I saw a very dark figure standing in Asia. His name was "Breaking." He has been there for centuries breaking nations, families and individuals. Breaking hopes and good intentions and spreading deceit, evil, aggression and violence. The longer Singapore delays in fulfilling the Lord's commission the stronger Breaking gets. His intention is clear. "If only I can break Singapore, then I'll be safe." His ultimate plan is very simple. "I break so that I can rule."
